What the Boys are Doing Here and There

These mountain boys don't like the desert this time of the year, we are advised by Private Nick Sassarini who has been assigned to an infantry weeks in the army. Nick sends his unit at Camp Roberts after two regards to his friends here and asks that the Sierra Sun be sent to him. Nick says he sure misses the good milkshakes at Loynd's.

From the same outfit comes word from Harry Digesti, also an infantry private, who says he wants the Sun "for I'm a little homesick." That's a common ailment among young soldiers and we hope the Sun proves the right tonic. Harry also sends regards to his schoolmates and other friends.

Then here is another occasional let ter from our old friend Corporal Roy Waters who is still at the hospital in Fort Riley, Kansas, in the medical corps. Roy says that since his last letter "much water has passed under, over and around the bridge due to floods and more floods which have engulfed this area." He frankly declined to refer to the weather in his location as he was afraid his letter might be read by those who would be shocked at his language. He had just returned from a three-day hike where he said he spent three days fighting chiggers, snakes and mosquitos. "It was an all-out fight," he said, 'and we finally had to fall back and wage a purely defensive war. The air force smothered us, the pincer move of the chiggers cut our blood supply and so the great battle of Seven Mile Creek will go down in history as a glorious defeat, the forces of Nature proving too much." Roy said he went fishing in the Huckleberry Finn style, with a bent willow and string, caught one sun perch and a bullhead. Not like fishing the Truckee, but must do for the time being.

Corporal Lee Hunsinger of the U. S. Engineers, writes to his dad from Iran where he is serving a long way from home.

It's Private Citizen Frederick now. Otto, who is over the 38 year limit, has received his discharge and while now working on the Southern Paicfic near Norden is assisting his wife in the operation of their store on the summit. Otto was in the camp post office at Camp White during his army career.

RESORT OWNER IS HELD ON BAIL IN GAME VIOLATION

Frank Globin of Globins, Lake Tahoe pleaded not guilty in the federal court in Sacramento to an information filed by Assistant United State Attorney Emmet J. Seawell charging him with possession of six wild Canadian geese in violation of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act.

Globin is free on $500 bail. Federal Judge Martin I. Welsh will set a date for the trial in September.

Seawell said Globin was arrested by James C. Savage, game management gent of the U.S. Department of the Interior on June 9th. Seawell said the resort owner is accused of clipping the wings of the geese and penning them to prevent them from flying away.

TAX ROLLS SHOW GAIN IN COUNTY

Nevada County Assessor Philip G. Scadden reported the assessment roll of real property will show an increase of $215,283 despite the loss of some 33,000 taxable acres in western Nevada County taken over by the war department for Camp Beale.

The loss of $215,000 taken from the rolls will be more than offset by increased valuations of public utilities including the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Southern Pacific Company and by new construction.

The total assessed valuation of the county is $18,591,408.

DEFINITE HOPE IS HELD FOR YOUTH ON LOST CRUISER

Definite hopes are held out for Robert Leamon, Truckee young man whose ship, the Helena, was sunk in Kula Gulf on July 6th. While no word has been received, it is believed that Leamon, a signalman, was one of the more than 600 rescued after a gallant naval battle in which the Cruiser Helena took active part.

The sinking occurred early in the morning and within a few minutes searchlights were playing on the sea as companion ships gathered up the Helena's crew.

Leamon was the third Truckee boy to have ships sunk under them.

Heslin Cardinal was a members of the crew of the U.S.S. Gregory sunk off Guadalcanal. He was rescued and after months of hospitalization was honorably discharged and now operates a service station in Reno.

Dave Bolender, son of Mrs. Jack Wolert, survived the sinking of the Northhampton but lost all his personal belonging in the South Pacific. Dave was transferred to another ship and has been in action many times.

For a dry land town, Truckee may well be proud of its sea-faring sons.

LOCAL MAN GETS THANKS FOR KNIFE

There may be some who doubt the knives collected here last spring in the Save a Life With a Knife drive conducted by Truckee Post No. 439, American Legion, did not reach the intended service men in the South Pacific area, but one of those doubters is certainly not Earl Johnson, a state highway employe who last week received an V-mail letter from the proud recipient of the knife and scabbard donated to the drive by the Truckee man.

From New Guinea came the letter of thanks from Corporal Edward G. Dees, who wrote in part:

"I received a nice scabbard and knife and just wanted to thank you for it In this country it is about the best friend a fellow has."

"I wouldn't take $25 for that letter," Johnson declared.

MY PLACE 'N THE SUN

By CORP. DOUG BARRETT

(Excerpts from letters from some where in the Alaska Theater).

The most pleasant aspect of this letter is a dinner. But such a dinner! While on my pass we—a couple of G. I. weather men and I—went to town and laid out $5.00 each for a steak dinner. The waiter stated that it amounted to two week's ration "outside" and I can well believe him Such I steak I haven't seen. It lobbed over the edge of an oblong platter and every ounce, except for the T-bone was edible. It was a beautiful job that required no sauce or salts other than those used in cooking. It was garnished with nice French fries and green salad and was really a treat. We had a quart of beer to aid its digestion and by and large it was the best $5.00 investment I have ever made.

As you know there is no rationing in Alaska. If you have the price—and most folks apparently do—you can get anything you want if it is in stock.

You can bet your boots I miss the hiss and hoot of the Espee. I know I cussed it and threw verbal bricks at it when it rattled the front window but begad, it's in my blood and I love the old dear for all its noise. If there's anything I miss aside from hearth and home, it's watching the cars of all the roads of the nation slither past our office window.

We have a pool here on a second front. While a lot of the boys here thought their guesses were wishful thinking, day by day they are becoming convinced that it is a short way off. My own guess was later than most and involved the date or September 10. Don't ask me why but just remember the date.

WOMEN IRED OVER ACTION IN COOKER APPLICATION HERE

Truckee women who desire the use of pressure cookers to assist them in preserving fruit and vegetables are rightfully ired over the fact that in spite of the fact that E. M. Swift, of the state department of agriculture writes that the allocation of the cookers to Nevada County should be approximately 250, the powers that control the allocations at Nevada City wouldn't take applications from Truckee, Mrs. T. T. Buell, president of the Wyethia Club said, because they had only 35 such cookers and applications had already been received which took them all.

Mrs. Buell said she proposed to take the matter up with state or federal officials to determine why Truckee women should not at least have applications issued and considered.

Mrs. Buell and others said they have made every effort to obtain at least one pressure cooker for this district, but were not even permitted to file applications, even though the applications were not to have been considered until far after the time the local appeal was made.

The Wyethia Women's Club is expected to go further into the matter in the near future, Mrs. Buell said, as the need for food preservation is just as important to Truckee women as to women in other parts of the county.

Three Vehicle Mishaps Injure Men This Week

One Driver Arrested After Cars Wrecked At Cisco Grove

Three automobile accidents were reported in this area during the past week by the state highway patrol.

An army vehicle was wrecked east of here Tuesday night and one man suffered serious injuries and four others lesser hurts. The more seriously injured were taken to Reno.

August Butt, 67, Santa Barbara, employed at Tahoe Tavern, suffered minor injuries when his car and one operated by Gus Pope, 40, Montera, collided five miles north of Tahoe on the Brockway road Monday night at 5 p.m. State Patrolman Bob Fowler investigated.

William V. Kreeman, 36, Colfax, was arrested by State Patrolman Earl Crane Monday afternoon after a car driven by Kreeman struck two machines, one operated by Alfred Toombs, 37, Winters, and the other by Walter Clarkson, 32, Fort Ord, as the latter two were stopped by a flagman near Cisco. None was injured, but the cars were damaged.

13 FIRES CAUSED BY LIGHTNING DURING MONTH IN DISTRICT

Lightning storms were responsible for 13 fires during July on the Truckee and Sierraville districts of the Tahoe National Forest, all of which were extinguished by forest service crews before they caused damage, reports District Ranger H. I. Snider.

Only two man caused fires are reported so far this season on the Truckee district. A careless smoker traveling along the Paige Meadow road one and a half miles southwest of Tahoe City caused the forest service tanker crews and part of the Tahoe Rangers to do some rapid work to control the fire in the thick brush and timber last Thursday.

The other fire caused by a careless sportsman smoking was discovered by Bryce Euer a stockman who corralled the fire until the Truckee crew arrived with a pumper to wash the fire out of a sawdust pile.

Portable pumpers were also used on two lightning fires that occurred near streams, one of which required packing 1800 feet of hose half a mile up the mountain near a stream north of Donner Resort, so the fire could be mopped up quickly.

One law enforcement case was concluded when Joe Larralde of Reno, paid a $5 fine to Justice of the Peace Evelyn Bliss at Tahoe City for burning debris without a permit at his place near Kings Beach, Snider said.

BANK SHOWS BIG GAIN IN RESOURCES

Reflecting the prosperity of California under war conditions, the statement of condition of Bank of America as of June 30, 1943, reveals that the resources of the bank have passed the three billion dollar milestone.

Total resources were $3,127,637,000, a gain of $984,435,000 over a year ago. Deposits attained the historic peak of $2,937,266,000, an increase of $978,835,000 over a year ago and an increase of $351,125,000 since December 31, 1942.

.: Sun :. Beams

by WALTER M. BARRETT

The arrival of Mrs. Jennie Weslow in Truckee to point out what is without doubt the site of the George Donner cabin on Alder creek and a subsequent revival of interest in the history of the party which made this region famous, brings to mind that two years hence, in October, 1946, the 100th anniversary of the Donner tragedy will be observed. We believe it only fitting and proper that the Truckee Chamber of Commerce make plans for suitable observation of the event. We do not question the war being over then and with the possible cooperation of the Native Sons and other historic organizations, we believe a rededication ceremony will be in order. At least it 's something to plan and prepare for and if it is to be worthwhile it is not now too early to lay the plans.

The Grass Valley Morning Union has come forth with an editorial in which it is proposed to have Donner Lake included in a state or national part and thus end the doubts which continually rise up over the future of the picturesque and history body of water. The state department of water resources has advised that it is unaware of what the Donner Lake Company is selling to the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District, but says it will take steps in the best interest of the state when the time arrives. Frankly, we believe the time has come when more and positive interest is taken in the situation and if making a park of the lake will assure us that its beauty and historic value will be saved, then let's make it a park. But above all, we believe that unless something is done and done immediately, we will be too late, if that is not already the case.

There are no doubt many things wrong with the rationing program, far too many perhaps to please our good, old American manner of living and let live, but an item in My Place in the Sun, shows what could result here under war time conditions if there wasn't some control placed on prices. When a steak and potatoes reaches the price of $5, then inflation is no onger a future problem but a current headache, but that's the price paid where price control and rationing are unwa ed and apparently unnecessary when everyone has all the money they need.

TRUCKEE GIRL HAS ESCAPE FROM RIVER

Bobby Jean Dolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Dolley narrowly escaped drowning in the Truckee River last week while swimming.

With several other children, Bobby Jean was enjoying a dip in the river when she stepped too far out and the swift current siezed her and swept her down stream

She was bobbing along on the fast moving water when Phil Jolley who lives nearby, saw her plight and leaped into the water, clothes and all and brought her to safety.

The child was not injured and suffered no ill effects from the near disaster but has promised not to swim henceforth in the river.

Truckee Group Will Mark Site Of Donner Cabin

Pioneer Here To Direct Workers In Finding Cabin Site

Childhood memories of Mrs. Jennie Weslow of Sacramento, a California pioneer, have solved a question that for many years has stumped historians who have attempted to retrace the exact trail of the famous and ill-fated Donner Party.

Mrs. Weslow, who is now past 83, is probably the best living authority on the location of the site of the George and Tamsen Donner cabin on Alder creek, some eight miles north from where the main camp of the Donner group was located at the foot of Donner lake.

Her knowledge was gained in a number of authentic and personal ways but primarily through the fact that between 1872 and 1880 she lived very near the Donner cabin and often played in and around it. Also she has gained much of the Donner history from her late mother, who followed the Donner trail to California in 1852 and for some years lived at Marysville where some of the survivors also resided and told the story of their plight in the high Sierra. Mrs. Weslow's mother came from near Springfield, Illinois, the point where the party was organized and she was personally acquainted with many of them.

Mrs. Weslow was in Truckee during the past week and with the aid of C. Edmunds, Chamber of Commerce manager, went over the site of the cabin so clearly identified in her mind from childhood and has produced proof of her claim in the form of old hand made nails and other items which proved the site at one time was occupied by a camp

The chamber of commerce has agreed to mark the site as well as the spring near where Mrs. Weslow's step-father. Charles E. Roberson operated a sawmill. The spring wil be known henceforth as the Roberson Spring and it is proposed to place permanent markers there as soon as conditions permit.

Mrs. Weslow's attention to the need for immediately preserving the facts which mark the site of the Donner cabin was drawn by a story last April reporting the cutting of a huge pine tree in the vicinity of Hobart Mills for wood. Mrs. Weslow knew that a huge old pine marked the location of the cabin site and she wrote the Sierra Sun asking that future cutting be delayed until she could come here and definitely mark the spot. This week she arrived and attended to the task with the aid of Edmunds and the chamber of commerce.

The next project for the chamber will be to locate and mark the site of the Jacob Donner cabin across Alder creek and a quarter of a mile from where the George Donner cabin was located.

In 1864, Mrs. Weslow lived with her mother and brother at the Mountain View hotel on Donner Lake and later attended school in Truckee where one of her teachers was the late C. F. McGlashan, authority on Donner history and author of the History of the Donner Party.

It was not until her mother was married to Roberson and the family went to Alder creek that she became personally familiar with the old cabin. Many times, she said, she and her mother passed the cabin along the old Donner trail to get milk at the Prosser ranch. At that time, she said, much of the walls and other appointments of the cabin stood intact with the big tree, still marking the spot, forming part of one wall.

Many and varied have been the opinions of historians concerning the exact location of the cabin sites and the old trail, but it is believed that the evidence produced by Mrs. Weslow will still the doubts.

Your electric water heater is built to give you many, many years of carefree service. It will, however, last longer if not abused.
One abuse of an electric water heater is raising water temperature higher than 140° F. For general household use the thermostat on the water heater should be set between 120° F and 140° F; 130° F is usually satisfactory. Excessive water temperature is a cause of limed-up pipes and tank corrosion.
Check any dripping faucets, especially hot water faucets. A new washer will stop waste of water and electricity. A faucet dripping 90 drops a minute will waste 310 gallons of water a month.

TELEPHONE OFFICIAL HAS ANNOUNCEMENT FOR SHAREHOLDERS

A. P. Leitch, local manager of the telephone company, said that telephone users here would be interested in the statement by N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, accompanying the dividend checks mailed recently to common shareholders.

Powley stated:

Telephone demands for additional service, both exchange and long distance, continue at new high levels.

Government regulations now in effect further restrict the amount of new material that may be used for the installation of telephones, provision being made, as formerly, for put ting first the installation of telepones required for war and essential civilian purposes.

The increase in long distance traffic continues to be extremely heavy, especially on the longer hauls to and from war activity centers. Although every effort is being made to handle all calls with efficiency and dispatch the unabated increase in traffic subjects more and more calls to delay. We have, therefore, recently intensified our advertising program urging that the public refrain, as far possible, from making long distance calls to and from war activity centers. We are also urging the public, whenever circuits are extra busy, to limit conversations to five minutes in order that we may be of all possible service to others who may be waiting. The voluntary responses on the part of our patrons, which we gratefully acknowledge, bespeak a most helpful attitude and sympathetic understanding. Our every endeavor is dedicated toward our ocmpany playing its full and effective part in our nation's all-out war effort.

Now, U. S. submarines reach right out to Nippon's beaches to land haymakers on Jap shipping. One reason is because their Diesels are lubricated with RPM DELO. It contains a special compound that eliminates sticking rings, keeps pistons clean after thousands of miles of heavy-duty operation, ends bearing corrosion.

Now, you need RPM DELO more than ever, to cut wear to a whisper and stretch the life of scarce parts.

RESERVATIONS ARE NOW REQUIRED ON RAILOAD COACHES

Advance reservations for Southern Pacific coach trips will have to be made by those planning journeys on and after July 16, it was announced today by F. C. McGinnis, vice president in charge of passenger traffic for the railroad.

Under the new arragnement, coach reservation will be made for definite trains but not for specific cars or seats, except on trains where seat reservations have been previously required, McGinnis stated.

"We will not be able to make coach reservations by telephone because of the load on teelphone lines" he said, "and no coach reservations will be made unless a ticket has been purchased."

These steps are being taken, McGinnis explained, because of the unprecedented passenger traffic which has resulted in many trains being badly overcrowded.

"On many of our trains, people are standing in coaches and sleeping in the aisles," he said. "Frequently trains leave people waiting at stations because there is no room for them Obviously something must be done to correct the situation

"This new war time plan requiring coach reservations will limit the number of people on each train. Also subject to unforeseen emergencies, travelers will know whether or not coach space is available before they prepare to board the trains."

Service men will also be required to make advance reservations, but will be given preference, McGinnis said.

TAHOE LETTER

* * * *

To the Service Men

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, Calif.
July 12, 1943.

Dear Tahoeites:

Again I take mytypewriter in hand to send you the latest news of your montain homeland. Grand weather seems to be the order of the day at last, and the sun shines this morning with summery warmth in the air. Many of the flowers are just beginning to bloom with only a scattering of the sweet-scented buck brush and snow bush which usually cloy the atmosphere much earlier in the spring. Frosty mornings have somewhat delayed the blooming of the plumy white skunkcabbage too that last year reached its zenith of beauty in the meadows and along the creeks

On the moring of July 8 the temperature hit 37, with the warmest morning recentl rising to 82. The gardens aer progressing a bit slowly, especially Victory gardens and unfortunately what Jack Frost has not annihilated the impudent deer are. At the Sidney Ehrman estate, Pine Lodge, drastic steps had to be taken to protect young plants, which disappeared as soon as they showed their heads above the ground each night. Henry Soll, caretaker, has erected a high barbed wire fence with the top wire charged, not enough to fatally injure the animals but to give them a bit of a shock and take the edge off their lusty appetites. At our own place, Unaliyi, home of the R. F. Walkers, deer have visited the gardens on many nights nipping off lovely fat rose buds and the tops of plants about ready to bloom, and it is most disconceting to flower lovers who have only a short time in which to enjoy their choice blossoms.

Perhaps that is but one small reason why Tahoeties are pleased to learn that deer season will be opened as usual in this district September 16th, thanks to the powers that be. Not only will the limit of deer in local families do much to solve the difficulties of meat rationing, but some relief may be also felt from ravaged garden plots.

The big news abotu town this week is the coming dance being held in the Tahoe Community hall on Saturday night, July 17. It is reported that 150 men and their accompanying officers, will visit the area for several days and have requested the use of the hall for their entertianment. When news of their plans reached the president of the Tahoe Women's Club, Mrs. Harry Johanson, she immediately offered the services of the club members, with their approval, in acting as sponsors for the group. A letter dispatched to Camp Beale has not yet elicited an answer, but it is believed there will be no objection on the part of the army officials. Plans made at the club meeting last Thursday evening in community hall, call for the serving of sandwiches and soft drinks , to be provided from club funds. Each woman member of the club is requested to make up and bring a dozen sandwiches and any others wishing to help along this splendid cause may also donate. The reqeust is made that those making sandwiches will please deliver them before 6 p.m. on Saturday to the Village Store in Tahoe City where Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson have consented to store them until refreshment time. Since this is the first time that Tahoe has had an opportunity to directly assist in furnishing recreation to the men in service, a real effort is being made to provide a happy and successful evening of entertainment for Uncle Sams nephews.

Mrs. F. W. Gaiennie, a member of the Wyethia Club in Truckee learned of the affair Monday and declared she would appeal to members of her organization to lend whatever assistance they might either in providing young ladies to serve as dancing partners or in augmenting the sandwiches. Good peppy dance records for the juke-box orchestra are being borrowed for the evening which will probably include some real old fashioned dances. Invitations are being extended local girls to act as dancing partners.

A second community party will be given by the Tahoe Women's Club on the night of Aug. 12 on the beach of the Commons. A full moon is soheduled for that date and a huge bonfire will be built and lit around 9 o'clock. It is planned by the club members to roast marshmallows and weiners on long sticks around the embers and tempting dishes will be donated for the party for which a moderate charge will be made. All money made on the affair will be placed in a fund which will be used only for further beautification of the commons. A fine barbecue pit will be the first objective to be followed by picnic tables and benches and play equipment for the children, along with the planting of flowers and shrubs and more pretentious improvements as money accumulates. It is felt this project will be a real boon to the residents of this area as each day brings the problem of travel more critically to the foreground. With a bathing beach, picnic and play ground readily available to all, the need for long distance travel will be diminished. Local talent is being sought to offer entertainment during the evening and already some interesting prospects have agreed to offer their services. Everyone is invited to come so remember the date, August 12.

Very little news of Tahoe's service men this week, but a grand three page letter from Charles Arments, now located at Big Creek. They enclosed some very kind words for the Sierra Sun which they said, was always looked forward to eagerly each week. Although they yearn to visit their many friends in the Tahoe area, they are actually in love with their new location and the rare opportunities their present job with the forest service is offering. Chuck is gthering much valuable information this summer with large groups of the armed services engaged in tactical maneuvers in that area.

Again I leave you for the week, hoping to receive some of your friendly letters in the next few weeks once more. When they cease to arrive as usual I suspect you have joined that great exodus of fighting men on foreign shores whose valiant progress toward the end of this terrible struggle is holding the whole world daily in breathless suspense. May God walk with you in the tragic hours ahead.

The best of good wishes and the hope that you may return safely to the bosoms of your families, from the folks back home. As ever .... wishing that Victory and Peace be orus before the end of 1943.

SWANEE.

The Summit Scene

By Frances Couillard

Mail bags at Soda Springs are getting heavier and heavier with the influx of summer guests on the mountain. Due to gasoline curtailment and the close proximity of the High Sierra to the valleys below, cabins that haven't had shutters removed for several seasons are undergoing renovation and occupancy. Geusts at the Sugar Bowl include the Zellebrachs and the Arthur Browns. Back in the Cedars went Allen Chickering, the Bentleys and many others. Kingvale Colony has the Loyths, the Ludwings the LaPoints, the Crowleys, Mrs. Kay Hammer and numerous others. Fishermen's cars are parked in every available space, the fishing seeming to be very good.

Dr. Reynolds and family and Dr. Garland's family have taken refuge from the valley heat at Soda Springs and Dennis and Murial Jones spend as many days in this district as time permits.

George Fraley is visiting at Donner Summit Lodge awaiting the repair of his cabin at Soda Springs which was recently broken into and where much destruction was wrought

Geusts at Donner Summit Lodge last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hack of Sacramento with their granddaughter, Sallianne; Josephine Hagglund and Ben Lachman of San Francisco and Major William Rutherford. All attended the Rotary Banquet which was held at the lodge Saturday night.

Martha Send, assistant at Donner Summit Lodge and Edward O'Malley one of the well known emjloyes of the Morrison-Knudsen Company slipped away quietly to Reno last Friday and were married by Dr. William Sempey. Friends on the Mountain wish them all happiness.

Byron Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson has sailed for parts unknown. Martin and Mrs. Johnson and their daughters managed to visit with Byron before he left with his army unit.

Otto Frederick is now on the reserve list of the U. S. army and is back on the mountain. Seems like old times to see Otto around.

Many pretty young wives of the soldiers were seen in and around Soda Springs last weekend for a group of the new boys were sent to Soda Springs and their wives, unable to fond housing facilities in the district will have to confine themselves to weekend visits with their soldier husbands.

Mrs. David Baysinger, Lt. Baysinger's wife, moved to Auburn last week while Captain Burnham's wife went on an extended visit to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Corporal Paul Gibbs and his wife made a hurried visit to the valley where Frances' mother was confined to a hospital.

Sergeant Kruger's wife, Connie, arrived last week from the east and will now remain on the mountain to be near her husband.

GASOLINE COUPONS SHOULD BE ENDORSED TO AVOID MISUSE SAYS OPA OFFICIAL

Beginning July 22 gasoline coupons must be endorsed with the license number and state of registration of the vehicle for which the ration was issued, the Office of Price Administration has ruled in a measure which aims to eliminate illegal transference of coupons and to protect motorists against loss by theft.

Motorists are required to endorse at once all coupons now in their possession and to endorse coupons in new ration books as soon as they are received.

TT coupons issued for fleet or official vehicles should bear the fleet designation, or the Certificate of War Necessity number in case of commercial vehicles not bearing the fleet designations, and the city and state in which the principal office of the fleet operator is located.

Bulk and inventory coupons, except those given for furolugh travel, should bear the name and address of the person to whom they are issued.

WOMENS CLUB AT TAHOE PLANS FOR BEACH PARTY

TAHOE CITY, July 15. Fourteen members of the Tahoe Women's club and their geusts met at community hall Thursday evening. Their president, Mrs. Harry Johonsen was in charge. House and Home

By MARY E. DAGUE
Author of Sister Mary's Kitchen.

Many women are cooking for two these days, brides just beginning their great adventure and housewives of long standing whose families are so inevitably reduced in numbers.

In a way it's the experienced housewive who faces the harder problem because her household and kitchen equipment is geared to the size of her family and she must do a lot of reconstructing in order to avoid waste. The appetites and requirements of two adults are vastly different from those of vigorous youth, but nourishing and interesting menus must be maintained.

Small amounts of food must be cooked in small containers so the established housekeeper may need to invest in some small-sized sauce pans and spiders. Top-stove cooking utensils of clear glass and clean-looking smooth-glazed American pottery are available and delightful to use. Many of these utensils will double for service.

You will find the five-inch top-stove glass skillet or "spider" just the right size for a shortcake for two. It makes a good pie pan for two as well as its innumerable uses on top of the stove.

If your pans are dented and rounded on the bottom you are more than justified in buying new ones because flat-bottomed pans will pay in fuel and time savings.

The size of cooking pans is far more important than most people realize. The wider the cooking surface the greater the evaporation, so results can't be the same if a small amount of food is cooked in a large container.

Recipes must be rejiggered in most cases. Modern recipes always designate the number of servings. Ordinarily the cook-books give recipes for six persons.

The problem of recipes is one of simple arithmetic but the trick is to be sure that you reduce EACH ingredient in proportion. If you halve the amount of flour in a recipe but forget to do the same with the milk you'll get into trouble.

Serving dishes, too, come in for the same reduction in size. A small amount of meat served on an average sized platter looks so lonesome it loses its appeal. Vegetables for two served in a dish calculated to hold enough for four or six persons cool rapidly and lose their flavor.

If you can't find small platters in the shops, hunt around on your own top shelves. Those small oval plates that were used under gravy boats are the right size for a rasher of bacon and eggs or the meat ration for two. You may find a relish or "pickle dish" of your mother's that's symmetrical and flat—I did—and you can put it to a new use.

Wounded at 15

When his aircraft carrier was attacked by Japanese planes in the Pacific, Walter Moravsky, 15, a veteran of nine months' service, was wounded. He is shown at home tasting his mother's cooking after he was honorably discharged until he reaches the proper age to enlist in the navy.

LARGE FISH CAUGHT

TAHOE CITY, July 15. Miss Alice Soll had the experts guessing here regarding the classification of a beautiful big fish she caught one day last week off the pier at Pine Lodge. Her father, Henry Soll, declared the fish, which weighed 13 pounds and measured 31 inches in length, a salmon. He said that some years ago the California Fish and Game Commission plnted a number of salmon in the lake and he was certain it was one of them. But Allan Pollitt in charge of the Tahoe Fish Hatchery, while not disputing the claim, believed it might be a steelhead instead.

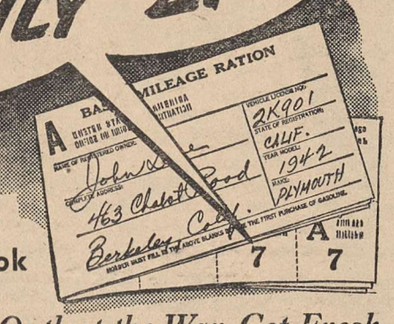
FIRE SUPPRESSION CREWS AT TAHOE KEPT BUSY AS BLAZES REPORTED

TAHOE CITY, July 15. Members of the Tahoe Park fire suppression crew have been kept busy lately extinguishing one fire in record time and finding two faulse alarms.

Thursday the boys were called to fight a fire located along the new road in Page Meadows just west of the Tavern stables. Arriving they found a good sized brush fire making rapid progress and the wind just rising. An emergency call went out for extra men and boys and members of the Tahoe Rangers responded. High school boys left their classes to join the group. A seriosu fire was averted with only a quarter of an acre of brush destroyed.

CHANGE OIL JULY 21



—says your New "A" Gas Ration Book

To Help Your Car Outlast the War, Get Fresh Oil Each Time "A" Coupon Numbers Change

EVEN SHORTER, slower war-time trips expose motor oil to dust and impurities. And partially burned fuel particles also promote oil deterioration.

Too, at slower speeds, the engine often doesn't get hot enough to vaporize the water formed by combustion and condensation. This water further contaminates your oil.

So your safe bet (regardless of how few coupons you've had to use) is to have your nearby Shellman or Shellady put in fresh Golden Shell Oil every time you go to a new number in your "A" gasoline ration book (every two months). Chances are you won't have to add a drop between times.

Dictatorship

In any group of people, whether it be national, political, industrial or social, where the majority is ruled without its consent by a minority—the status is that of "Dictatorship." We may call it any name we like—it is still Dictatorship. If any minority group should seize control of our government, abolish the elections and run the country without the voluntary consent of the people—that would constitute a Dictatorship. Germany is a Dictatorship because a small group called the National Socialist party runs the country and orders the lives of the majority without their spoken consent. The same applies to Italy and Russia—under differently named groups—and to a number of other nations on both sides of the ocean.

Many theorists believe this to be the best and sanest form of government, on their assumption that the majority is unfit intellectually to govern itself and should therefore be taken care of by a "wiser" few. But to argue this is to assume that there exists upon this earth angels of extraordinary intellect and of a strength of character sufficient to render them impervious to the deteriorating effects of too much power. No such man or woman has existed in the short period of known history and if such a person should fly down here, he could never satisfy all the people and would eventually be compelled to use the firing squad to restrain the dissatisfied and to retain his job.

The theory of government by Dictatorship has not worked out satisfactorily and that is why the world, after so many centuries, has been breaking away from it during the last few hundred years, and struggling toward government of, for and by the people.

There are many in our country who are beginning to fear that sinister forces which would like to gain dictatorial power over our lives may be able to accomplish their purpose while we are engaged in this world struggle. We went through this same fear complex during the First World war and during the Civil war: but nothing serious developed. This does not signify however that we should sneer at such fears or that we should ever become negligent, for we will be sure to lose our free government at some time unless we guard it at all times.

It is during periods of great stress such as war, famine, pestilence and the like, that those sleepless neurotics, who are never satisfied with any status quo, get in their licks. Like the germs in a sick body, or the parasites on a weakened tree—these warped creatures breed and thrive at accelerated pace while the solid citizenry is occupied with the defense of the land and the home front is of necessity neglected. When the wars or famines are over the citizenry fumigates the land: but scars are left and they heal slowly. Sometimes they never heal at all and during the next convulsion the infection gains such headway that the body politic is almost destroyed, and it often takes years to bring it back to full health again.

You can find some of the results of this scheming almost anywhere you look carefully for it: it is often very subtle, it is often very flagrant, it is always destructive—and by this last one can usually spot it. It may not appear to be dangerous but it is just as well to watch it, even in times of peace and contentment. It never sleeps; it is always waiting; its aim is servitude—and its name is "Dictatorship."

S. P. COACH SPACE MUST BE RESERVED IN ADVANCE

for trips on or after FRIDAY, JULY 16

★ You will need a reservation for coach trips on S. P. trains on and after July 16.

★ We cannot make coach reservations by telephone.

★ No coach reservations will be made unless you have a ticket.

Many of our trains are overcrowded, with people standing in coaches and sleeping in the aisles. Frequently trains leave people waiting at stations because there is no room for them. Obviously something must be done to correct the situation.

Coach reservations will be made for definite trains, but not for specific cars or seats. This means that you will usually find a seat but there will be times when people will have to stand because of emergencies.

We cannot make coach reservations by telephone because of the load on telephone lines, and no coach reservations will be made unless you have a ticket. You must get your ticket and reservations at an S.P. ticket office. If you now have a ticket you will have to make a reservation.

Unless your trip is really necessary—PLEASE DON'T TRAVEL!

Politically Speaking

By LLOYD LAPHAM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, July 15.— (UP)— The office of lieutenant governor is traditionally regarded by its holders as a stepping stone to bigger things, and Frederick F. Houser is no man to break with tradition.

The present lieutenant governor, elected only some eight months ago, alreadw is in the midst of jockeying for the Republican nomination next year for U. S. senator. Sheridan Downeny's term expires then and Houser, Charles Lyon, speaker of the state assembly and Dr. Walter Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction, all would like to succeed him.

There's good precedent for Houser's ambition to win a promotion at the polls. C. C. Young served a term as lieutenant governor before becoming governor and Frank F. Merriam did the same thing.

The last two lieutenant governors, George J. Hatfield and Ellis E. Patterson, tried, but failed. Hatfield lost in the 1938 primaries in an attempt to become governor and Patterson was snowed under when he attempted to unseat U.S. senator Hirman Johnson.

There are several reaons why the lieutenant governors spend most of their time building for the future. For one thing, under California's direct primary law the governor and the lieutenant governor as likely as not are political enemies. They could even be from different political parties, and so the governor delegates little power to his theoretical assistant.

So, there is actually very little for a lieutenant governor to do. He sits on several boards and commissions but usually has little power because the rest of the boards are appointed directly or indirectly by the governor.

He has a salary and expenses which aren't exactly liberal, but enough to allow him to do a great deal of traveling around the state.

A lieutenant governor has his brief moment of glory when the governor leaves the state. He becomes the state's chief executive temporarly and few lientenant governors have been able to resist the temptation to make the most of the situation.

Houser, for instance, decided an extradition matter in rather a dramatic fashion while Governor Earl Warren ws in Columbus, Ohio, for the convention of state governors.

The case was of a man charged with murder in Ohio 25 years ago, but who had lived an exemplary life in California since. Houser broke up the hearing on the case with the announcement he would refuse the extradition.

Warren might have reached the same decision but not in the same way.

Also during Warren's absence, Houser had taken occasion at a meeting of the state war council to charge that "certain elements" in the state department of education were plotting to perpetuate the wartime child care centers into permanent state nursery schools.

No one doubted that by certain elements Houser meant Dexter, the head of the department and his probable opponent in the senate race. Certainly, Dexter knew who was meant.

The inicdents were reminiscent of the famous answer Patterson gave former Gov. Culbert Olson when Olosn attended the 1940 democratic national convention.

Olson telephone Patterson, said he believed his chance of getting the nomiation for vice president was "immense" and asked Patterson to resign so Olson could appoint a successor more suitable to himself. Patterson answered in three words — Go to H---."

Getting back to Houser, he is personally likeable, intelligent and has the trained mind of an attorney. He is the son of the late Frederick W. Houser, associate justice of the state supreme coutr and seems to affect a judicial temperament himself.

Yet some senators criticized his lack of decision in presiding over the upper house of the legislature. There is one anecdote to the point, which requires a word of background. There are ofter vote switches by legislators after the roll has been called on a bill and before the count is announced, but each man makes up his own mind. Yet, one day in the senate a rather important bill was being voted upon, and the trend showed the probably would be opposite to expectations. Houser took the completed roll from hte secretary looked at it, looked out over the floor with a puzzled expression, and asked:

"Does anybody want to change his vote?"

SPECIALISTS

One barrier to having harmony and understanding between all types of people in our country is the fact that we are all specialists and don't give much thought to the specialties of others.

The farmer, for example, is vitally interested in legislation and regulations which affect farming, but he is not greatly concerned over what the government is doing to help solve the problems of the laboring man or of the business man. The laborer, on the other hand, doesn't care too much what is done about the farmer so long as it doesn't raise the price of the food he buys.

The business man is interested in the problems of the farmer and the laborer to the extent that solutions to their problems affect his prices and his supplies, but in most cases he doesn't bother to analyze their difficulties from their standpoint.

All of us have our own type of problems and can't expect too much sympathy from other groups who don't understand them. But we would have a higher standard of living in this country if each of us would make a real effort to try to see the other fellow's problems through his eyes as well as our own.

THE ALLIES' NEWEST WEAPON

The fact that a radio wave "bounces" may have a lot to do with our winning the war.

That's why we are hearing so much these days about our remarkable new weapon known as Radar.

Actually Radar isn't a new discovery, but it has been perfected and put to practical use since the war started. It was first worked out, according to the Navy department, back in 1932 by an engineer named L. A. Hyland, who is now with the Bendix Aviation corporation.

Before the ill-fated dirigible Akron was lost, Mr. Hyland parked a truck-load of experimental apparatus on a Virginia farm and tested out his theory about bouncing radio waves. He shot radio waves out at the Akron, which was at sea miles away, and the waves came back to him.

Going on from there, equipment was worked out by which our navy and coast guard can now detect any airplane while it is still miles away and know the speed at which the plane is flying and the direction it is going.

Because of Radar there can be no sneak attacks on our coast or on our ships. We have the invisible weapon of radio waves working on our side, searching the skies for enemy planes and sending instant reports to our forces. Because of Radar we know that, when any kind of attack comes from the air, we can shoot first.

"And this be our motto"

"PRAISE the power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: 'In God is our trust!'"

Through the ages singing has been instrumental in arousing courage and uplifting faith. Today amidst world turbulence people are being urged to sing more. Individually and collectively, therefore, they are participating fervently and frequently in the singing of their national anthems.

The deep spiritual significance of the above inspiring declaration in the last verse of the national anthem of the United States of America is worthy of thoughtful meditation at this time, and serves to remind us of the wisdom of those words (Proverbs 3:5), "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

All through both the Old and the New Testament are accounts of victories and rejoicings by faithful ones who put their trust in God when in need of a sustaining power greater than their own limited human abilities. Their faith that righteousness must prevail, and that their strength was of God, was their assurance of ultimate victory.

Christ Jesus taught his disciples and followers the importance of recognizing and acclaiming God as Father of all. His earthly ministry was entirely devoted to urging all men to renew faith in God, to trust Him, and to seek an understanding of Him, and he proved through his healing work that this understanding was vitally necessary to their joy and happiness. . . .

The following elucidating definition of God is given on page 587 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "The great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence." . . .

God is Spirit. He is the only cause and creator, and man, created in His image and likeness, therefore is spiritual. Man is not material, mortal; he reflects Spirit and is immortal.

Knowing God as Principle enables us to discern that the real man in God's image is righteous in all his actions. Man, the perfect idea of God, divine Love, is loving and lovable, incapable of either hate or fear. Because God is good and has created everything good, man, His reflection, is the manifestation of good. The understanding of the allness of good eliminates any opposite belief, and demonstrates the nothingness and unreality of evil and its claims to power.

As we intelligently place more trust in God's ever-presence, His omnipotent power, and His plan and purpose for His creation, our happiness and success are ensured. We soon find ourselves expressing more harmony in our daily affairs; confusion gives way to calm and poise; intolerance is replaced by tolerance, and we awaken to a greater sense of love and unselfishness. We gain an understanding of real security and substance, proving that "they that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever." . . .

As we strive to consecrate our thinking to good, to glorify God in all our activities, and trust His unerring guidance, we shall be able to prove true the words of Mrs. Eddy (Science and Health, p. 444): "Step by step will those who trust Him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.'" of Mail-Well construction

● Notice in the above illustration the entirely different construction of the two envelope flaps. Figure 1 shows the old style flap. Figure 2 shows the "Mail-Well" flap which has been designed to protect the contents of the envelope. The outstanding advantages of this special high shoulder flap are:

It allows adequate room for heavy gumming at the corners, the envelope's weakest point, where added protection is most needed.*

It assures safe delivery of the contents even when stuffed to capacity.

It gives easy access to the letter opener although sealed nearly airtight.

You can best judge the merits when you have a Mail-Well and any other type envelope in your hands. Let us show you samples—a comparison will readily convince you of the added protection given your mail by Mail-Well envelopes. You will be under no obligation to order.

All envelopes ride on the flap edge when going through the sorting and cancelling machines at the Post Office.*
